

Report on Departmental Seminar
Topic: Relevance of Educational Philosophy of Mahatma Gandhi in the Modern Democratic Society

Date: 16th April 2019

Time: 12:00 Noon

Venue: Auditorium

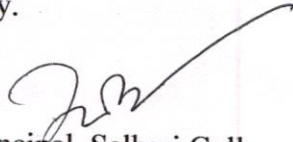

Brief Note:

A departmental seminar on the topic "Relevance of Educational Philosophy of Mahatma Gandhi in the Modern Democratic Society" was held on 16th April 2019 at 12:00 noon under the guidance of Mr. Parimal Ch. Das, Assistant Professor and Head of the Department. To provide valuable insights, Dr. Hiren Baro, Asst. Professor, Department of Political Science, was invited as the resource person. Dr. Baro delivered an enlightening lecture, offering an in-depth exploration of Mahatma Gandhi's Educational Philosophy, its core principles, and its significance in the modern democratic society. The seminar aimed to revisit Gandhi's philosophy and its relevance in today's context, focusing on its potential to shape a more just, equitable, and compassionate society.

Outcome of the seminar:

After participating in the seminar, faculty members and students gained a comprehensive understanding of Mahatma Gandhi's Educational Philosophy, its key tenets, and its enduring relevance in the present day. They were exposed to the significance of Gandhi's philosophy in promoting critical thinking, social responsibility, and moral values, which are essential for fostering a democratic society. The seminar encouraged participants to reflect on the applicability of Gandhi's ideas in contemporary educational settings, inspiring a renewed commitment to the values of social justice, equality, and human dignity.
