A Quality Enhancement Programme
On How to Manage Time
Venue: Hathorkhi Foraisali
Date: 29th June, 2022

Name of the Programme	A Quality Enhancement Programme on 'How to Manage Time'
Organised by	IQAC, Salbari College
Time	11.30 AM
Venue	Hathorkhi Foraisali
Resource Person	1. Dr. Chakradhar Das, Asst. Prof. 2. Dr. Snkhang Basumatary, Asst. Prof.
Objective of the Programme	To help the students in maintaining balance academic workload with other responsibilities

On 29th June, 2022, as a part of the MoU with Hathorkhi Foraisali and the IQAC of Salbari College organized a quality enhancement programme on 'How to Manage Time' at Hathorkhi Foraisali. The objective of the programme was to help the students in maintaining balance academic workload with other responsibilities to foster better performance in every aspect of their life.

The resource person Dr. Chakradhar Das and Dr. Sankhang Basumatary interacted with students and delivered ideas on time management in student life. The programme was very much effective in the sense that time management plays a crucial role in students' life for several reasons. The resource persons highlighted how proper management of time helps students balance their academic workload with other responsibilities, such as extracurricular activities, part-time jobs, and personal commitments. By effectively managing their time, students can ensure they meet deadlines, prepare adequately for exams and complete assignments without last-minute stress.

The programme was also effective in the sense that a good time management helps not only helps the students in reducing stress but also prepares students for future professional life. Developing a healthy time management makes students disciplined and plan their activities and prioritize tasks, they can avoid the anxiety that comes with cramming and rushing through work. This leads to a healthier lifestyle, as they can also allocate time for relaxation, exercise and other social activities which are essential for physical as well as mental well-being. A good time management instills a sense of responsibility and the ability to juggle multiple tasks, preparing students for the demands of their careers.

7. Objectives	To observe and understand the practical aspects of dairy farming, including milk production, processing, and distribution.

Brief Note of the Programme

The Exposure Tour cum Industrial Farm Visit from Salbari College to Sarma Dairy, Sitajakhala, Jagiroad, Nagaon, organized by the IQAC (Internal Quality Assurance Cell) of Salbari College, took place on 19th October 2022. This initiative aimed to provide students with invaluable practical exposure to the dairy industry, facilitated by a visit to Sitajakhala Dugdha

Utpadak Samabai Ltd. Led by the Principal, Dr. Jagat Ch. Basumatary, Vice Principal Dr. Dulen Basumatary, and three Assistant Professors, along with 38 enthusiastic students, the tour was meticulously designed to bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and real-world application.

Sitajakhala Dugdha Utpadak Samabai Ltd., located in Jagiroad, Nagaon, served as an ideal setting for the students to witness firsthand the entire dairy production cycle. The objectives were clear: to observe and understand every facet of dairy farming, from milk production and quality control to processing and distribution mechanisms.

During the visit, students had the opportunity to interact with industry professionals and workers, gaining insights into the operational challenges and innovations within the dairy sector. They learned about the cooperative model employed by Sitajakhala Dugdha Utpadak Samabai Ltd., which plays a crucial role in supporting local dairy farmers and ensuring sustainable agricultural practices.

The experience was not merely educational but also inspirational, as it encouraged students to envision potential career paths within the dairy industry. Many were motivated to explore entrepreneurship opportunities and contribute meaningfully to the agricultural landscape of their region.

2. Organised By	IQAC, Salbari College
3. Agency	Salbari District Sports Association
4. Duration	25 th July to 23 rd August.
5. Objective	To expose students to potential career opportunities in football

Brief Note of the Programme:

The Internship Training of Football for the Students of Salbari College, organized by the IQAC (Internal Quality Assurance Cell) of Salbari College in collaboration with the Salbari District Sports Association, took place from 25th July to 23rd August. This initiative aimed to provide students with intensive football training, exposing them to potential career opportunities in the sport.

The internship was designed to bridge the gap between academic pursuits and professional sports careers. Over the four-week period, students engaged in rigorous training sessions that focused on enhancing their football skills, improving physical fitness, and understanding the strategic aspects of the game. The training program was conducted by experienced coaches from the Salbari District Sports Association, ensuring high-quality instruction and mentorship.

One of the primary objectives of this internship was to introduce students to the various career paths available in football. Beyond playing professionally, students learned about opportunities in coaching, sports management, sports journalism, and physical education. This holistic approach aimed to broaden the students' perspectives on how they could integrate their passion for football into viable career options.

Literary Competition

Cleaning Activity

From 10th February to 12th February, 2022, the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of Salbari College, in collaboration with Mews, the National Service Scheme (NSS), and the National Cadet Corps (NCC), organized an Awareness Programme and Cleanliness Drive, Yoga Camp, Drawing competition and Literary competition for the little children of the village. This event took place in Gyati Gaon, an adopted village of Salbari College, located in Baren gabari, Baksa, Assam.

The primary objective of this initiative was to encourage students to engage with local communities, thereby fostering a sense of social responsibility and community service. The programme commenced at 10:00 A.M. with a warm welcome from the local community members. The students, along with faculty members and volunteers from NSS and NCC, participated actively in the day's events. The first segment of the programme focused on raising awareness about various social, health, and environmental issues. Interactive sessions were held where students discussed topics such as the importance of education, health and hygiene practices, and sustainable living with the villagers.

Following the awareness programme, the participants embarked on a cleanliness drive throughout Gyati Gaon. Equipped with cleaning materials, the students and volunteers worked together to clean public spaces, remove litter, and promote the importance of maintaining a clean and healthy environment. This hands-on activity not only helped improve the sanitation of the village but also instilled a sense of pride and responsibility in the students.

The field visit provided a valuable opportunity for students to connect with the local community, understand their challenges, and contribute positively to their environment. It emphasized the importance of community service and demonstrated the impact of collective efforts

E-Resources for Teaching Learning Process
Organised by:
IQAC, Salbari College
In Collaboration with ICT, Academy Guwahati

E-resources play a pivotal role in modern teaching-learning processes. Understanding the importance of providing deep knowledge on teaching learning. They provide access to a vast array of information and educational materials, enriching the learning experience for students. With e-resources, educators can create dynamic and interactive lessons tailored to diverse learning styles, fostering engagement and comprehension. Additionally, e-resources facilitate flexibility and accessibility, allowing students to learn at their own pace and place. They promote collaboration and communication among students and teachers, breaking down geographical barriers and enhancing connectivity. Moreover, e-resources enable continuous learning beyond the confines of the classroom, empowering students to explore topics independently and deepen their understanding. By leveraging e-resources effectively, educational institutions can adapt to the digital age, enhance educational outcomes, and prepare students for success in a rapidly evolving world.

Moreover, as per of the clauses of MoUs between Salbari College and ICT Academy, Guwahati the IQAC, Salbari College, in Collaboration with the ICT, Academy Guwahati organized Faculty Development Programme (FDP) for both the teaching and non-teaching staff of the college in different years as well as conducted Certificate Courses for the development of employability skills of the student to the present's worlds' market demand.

Recycle the Waste
A Clean Campus Initiative
Organized by
IQAC, Salbari College

A clean campus promotes better health and hygiene among students, faculty, and staff. The clean campus initiative encourages waste reduction, recycling, and proper waste disposal practices. This reducing pollution and improve environment sustainability. Such initiative also fosters a sense of community among students, faculty, staff, and surrounding residents. It encourages collaboration and shared responsibility for maintaining a clean and healthy environment. A clean campus enhances the reputation of the educational institution and reflects positively on the institute's commitment to cleanliness and hygiene develops attracting prospective students and faculty.

Moreover, a clean and well-maintained campus contributes to employee satisfaction. The faculties and staff are more likely to feel valued and motivated in a pleasant and hygienic work environment.

As per the MoUs for building clean campus the authority of the Salbari College handed over waste material for recycling on 21/05/2024 to M/S VIKI ENTERPRISE

In conclusion, undertaking the clean campus initiative is crucial for educational institutions to promote health and hygiene and ensure environmental sustainability. Besides, this fosters a culture of sustainability and responsibility that can have a long-term impact on campus life, local communities, and the environment.
